Medjugorje

Medjugorje, a small village in Herzegovina, is where the apparitions of Mary, the Mother of Jesus, began to take place on Wednesday 24th June, 1981. Her message to the world is that God exists, for us to be at peace, and to reconcile our differences. On the tenth anniversary of the apparitions war broke out in Yugoslavia. Three of the six visionaries continue to have apparitions today.

When They See Our Lady

Many scientific and medical tests have been carried out by experts. All have concluded the visionaries to be normal. During the time of the apparition, the visionaries make no response to loud sounds, bright lights in their eyes, or touch. The visionaries claim that Mary speaks to them, prays with them, and gives them messages for the world. They can even touch Her. Some of them were taken by her to see Heaven, Purgatory and Hell.

The Message

The Mother of Jesus invites us to put God in the first place in our lives, to pray daily, to fast on bread and water on Wednesdays and Fridays, confess our sins, and go to Mass. In this way, She said in July 1982, "You can stop wars and prevent natural disasters".

The Visionaries Today

All Six Visionaries are now married. Three of them continue with daily apparitions, usually at 18.40 BST. They are invited to spread the messages Mary has been giving them since 1981. They receive invitations from all continents to share Our Lady's message.

Future Events

The Mother of Jesus has spoken to the visionaries about some future events, ten of which are to be announced three days before they happen. The Visionaries already know these dates, and Medjugorje Centres around the world are ready to spread the news of the announcements, Mary says, it is to verify the authenticity, and to encourage more people to convert, ie., to turn back to God.

A Permanent Sign

Gospa, (The Croatian title for the Mother of Jesus) has promised to leave a permanent sign on the site of the apparitions. The sign will remain until the end of the world. We will be able to see the sign, but not touch it. "My Children", said Gospa, "Do not wait for the sign before you convert or it may be too late".

CHANGES PEOPLES' LIVES

The parish church of St. James
The parish church towers and the statue of Our Lady have become a recognised symbol of Medjugorje.

By Mr. Philip Illsley

My name is Philip Illsley and I organised our first Pilgrimage to Medjugorje in 1996: there were twelve of us - The Twelve Apostles! Since then I have organised a Pilgrimage every May, flying from Cardiff Airport.

There have been many grace's and blessings received by the people who have joined our pilgrimage to Medjugorje. Some have received outward signs; rosaries turning gold, the sun spinning, shapes and figures of the Christ child, the Holy Mother, the Sacred Host etc., whilst others have had visions that have touched their hearts and some miraculous healings.

Many people have experienced inner peace and tranquillity, a feeling of belonging, cleansing and healing, to name but a few of the remarkable occurrences in Medjugorje. There is a sense of holiness within the fields and the mountainsides surrounding the village where the Blessed Mother has been appearing daily since June 24th 1981.

I have personally been blessed with the opportunity to visit Medjugorje on 47 occasions. Each visit has been unique and memorable on my own personal journey of faith.

Every word of Our Lady is of value and directed to the hearts of everyone

Medjugorje Changes Peoples' Lives

Each visit has brought me peace and tranquillity and a closeness to God, with a deepening and greater love of my faith. Medjugorje is a place of tremendous love and faith, the whole atmosphere echoes peacefulness. It is a place where you are given the opportunity to find peace within yourself and with God.

Whether walking through the fields and climbing the hills, the simplicity and serenity of this holy place allows your hearts to open to the call of Mary, to let the love of Jesus penetrate your whole being and....

To make time for God.

Since my first pilgrimage in 1996, my life has changed; it has been enhanced with the fruits and graces of God's love.

This is a time of grace for each one of you!

I have come to tell you God exists

Medjugorje Changes Peoples' Lives

By Mr. Philip Illsley

These apparitions at Medjugorje are by far the most important events in over 2000 years.

Why? ...Because the Mother of God, The Queen of Peace, The Queen of Heaven, The Immaculate Conception, the Mediatrix of all graces, The Mother of us all, has descended daily, from her heavenly throne, to this earth, to a tiny village in the Bosnia Herzegovina region of the former Yugoslavia, called Medjugorje, since June 24th 1981 to present day.

So far, millions of pilgrims from all over the world have flocked to be where the Mother of God appeared, continues to appear every evening in Medjugorje. These supernatural events have survived; all efforts of the Communists to put a stop to them, many scientific studies, even the condemnation of the local bishop, and the hostile media, throughout the world. In spite of all this the apparitions have survived giving strong evidence that this is from God, because nothing and no one has been able to stop them!

These apparitions at Medjugorje have proved themselves over and over again. The local Franciscan clergy at Medjugorje have given documented proof to the Vatican, of thousands of miraculous cures, and healings, through these fruits, Medjugorje has become so credible now throughout the world, that the burden of proof that Medjugorje is authentic...

God will reward you with great gifts if you abandon yourself to him

Medjugorje Changes Peoples' Lives

...has shifted from those who believe, to those who are just opposed, and those who are opposed, these are being crushed daily by the fruits of Medjugorje, which are so powerful that they are changing and will continue to change, the whole face of the earth.

An Invitation to Medjugorje...

In Medjugorje you recapture a life full of joy, serenity, and purpose...

You understand the reason you are living, where you have come from, and where you are going...

You take your life back into your hands with vigour...

You rediscover a love in your life that trials and difficulties have buried...

Then you feel like a new person, and even others are aware that something has changed your life...

God never brings confusion to the soul - but attracts it and fills it with love

Fr. J. McCaffery OFM

*Whether you are a Priest,
Lay Person or Religious.
I would like you to read these few words.*

Whether you are a priest, lay person or religious, I would like you to read these few words. As you know it was Jesus himself who was the first to apply the title 'Mother of Christ' to the Church, when he said "My brothers and sisters are those who hear the word of God and put it into practice." [Luke 8:21].

We are all called to grow into a spiritual maturity resembling Mary and this is brought home to us by St. Francis of Assisi when he wrote to his brothers "We are Mothers of Christ when we carry him in our hearts and our bodies through divine love and a pure and sincere conscience - we give birth to him through holy works which should shine as an example before others."

Today, Mary as a Mother is concerned about us, a concern which shines through her messages at Medjugorje. These messages are based on the Gospel and on content. On this basis alone a Catholic is not only free to adopt the messages of Medjugorje, but is in fact called to live them, which are nothing less than the challenge of the Gospel. This inspires us today to greater prayer, penance and as a result to peace in public and private life.

Can an obedient Catholic accept the contents of private revelation prior to an official judgement of the Church on the apparitions?

The answer is yes - provided the person takes the trouble to examine the orthodoxy of the messages and finds nothing incompatible with the Gospel or Church teaching.

If you have avoided Medjugorje - then, please, I beg you do so no longer. At least read and reflect on the messages. Mary is simply begging us to take the Gospel to our hearts and to live it with passion and conviction. Yes it is a challenge, but is there anything wrong with that?

May the Lord and his Mother bless you.

Medjugorje A Personal Perception

Ask me 20 years ago about Medjugorje and I would have dismissed it out of hand. I mean its bad enough immersing oneself into seminary was throwing up to start considering the 'visits of Our Lady' well that was beyond belief.

20 years on and whilst still struggling to keep abreast of the philosophical, theological and pragmatic pastoral issues of my day I would say that theory and experience are mutually suited to each other. Even if it means myths are exploded or created. I have come to discover the truth sometimes lies in the paradoxical marriage and mismatch of theory and practice. Medjugorje falls into the invitation Jesus extends to those who ask 'Where do you live?' 'Come and see.' (John 1:38) The author of the gospel makes clear his intention behind the books that make up the corpus of his work in chapter 20 verse 31: 'There were many other signs that Jesus worked in the sight of the disciples, but they are not recorded in this book. These are recorded so that you may believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God, and that believing this you may have life through his name.' In my two visits in the last two years my experience points to the validation that Medjugorje is truly a place of profound prayer and faith. I have come to lay aside 20 years of disinterest because I chose to 'Go and see' for myself.

Walking the handful of streets in the small village that make up Medjugorje I felt as though I was walking through liquid prayer. It's beyond saturation point. The place's peace, beauty and tranquillity betray its country's immediate history which has seen horrors visited in sectarian fighting, fear and death. It's as though the disfigurement of humanity's inhumanity is being washed away by heaven sent peace. A peace imparted by God and dispersed by the simple and fervent faith of a people who truly are poor; a peace which flows as effortlessly and rhythmically as a penitent praying the rosary. In this place one finds ones true place in God's creation. As Fr. Svet said in his address during our week this year 'you are the centre of the pilgrimage you have come on, you may think God is but here you are central because God's whole attention is centred on you.' In all our prayers we forget that 'I' am indeed central for God truly wishes to listen to and respond to 'me'. My story is important to him as a child's stumbling story is of importance to its mother or father. In these streets my life and the lives of others around me are being rewritten by the author of life.

The signs attest to this. The story of sorrow, pain, suffering and the unforgiven is rewritten through the compassionate words of absolution. How else would fellow priests like myself spend a mere hour and thirty minutes minimum hear confessions daily? In services of healing tears shed under burdens unimaginable are transformed into tears of joy as peace, happiness and strength give succour to stooping spirits. As the Lord wishes this spiritual salve often brings about physical health and well-being too. For some sight is truly restored, the deaf do really being to hear and crippled walk. The gospel message proclaimed weekly from pulpits and ambos across the world are everyday realities. God is among his people. Truly I say these words 'God is with us.' 'Emmanuel' I say.

Much unnecessary significance is given to the miraculous by the sensationalist; here the miraculous manifest blessings which deepen faith, renew joy and increase the praise of God. No more is this more apparent and indeed for me palpable than during adoration of the Blessed Sacrament. I just cannot stop crying so strong is the love that emanates and permeates all who gather to adore Jesus. The miracle of tears of happiness, joy and peace are truly sensational because they reveal God's love and healing for you, for me. These daily miracles are our assurances that 'I am with you always until the end of time.' I pray that when that end time does come I will be with him always too.

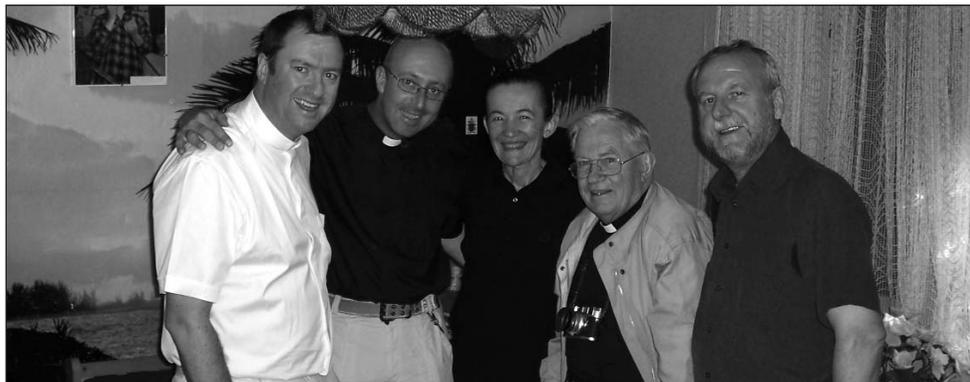

I cannot hope every to capture in words the inexpressible reality of the resurrection I have experienced in Medjugorje. Words failed St. Paul constantly as they did the other evangelists. Yet the words that give me a sense of Christian authenticity are these:

*'By their fruits you shall know them' Matthew 7:20
'Taste and see that the Lord is good.' Psalm 34:8*

Whatever preconceived ideas people and priests among them, may have about the happenings at Medjugorje they are just those preconceived. These two wise biblical sayings provide us with a prudent perspective with which to discern the truth. My encounter with Medjugorje, its visionaries, villagers and pilgrims has been uplifting and grace filled. I have savoured its fruit and wholesomeness and have been changed in the process for the better. If I were to say which words would summarise the message of this place of prayer and faith it would be these from Psalm 122: 6-9

*Pray for the peace of Jerusalem pray, 'Peace be to your homes!
May peace reign in your walls in your palaces, peace!'*

*For the love of my brethren and friends I say: 'Peace upon you!'
For the love of the house of the Lord I will ask for your good.*

The Fruit's of Our Pilgrimage to Medjugorje

By Mr. Philip Illsley

We are sometimes called a “Pilgrim People” because we are, all of us, travelling along the road of life to our destination with God, Our Father.

Our search for happiness is really a search for God. We keep our faith strong by keeping close to God.

Only God can fulfill our dreams and we can only be certain to reaching complete happiness if we travel along life's pilgrim road and faith together with God.

The Welsh Pilgrimage to Medjugorje is dedicated to re-building the lives of children and families whose lives were torn apart and destroyed during the war in Yugoslavia. After the war, approximately three million people, including 500,000 children were displaced, made homeless, or had suffered the loss of one or both parents. This war left a terrible legacy. Millions of people of this once peaceful area of Europe were left homeless. Their need for help is acute and continues to this day. Our trust has been established to help rebuild the lives of those most affected, the children, and the elderly.

We have in place, programmes to help with poverty relief, humanitarian aid, sponsorship of orphaned children, financial aid to orphanages, financial aid to homes for the elderly.”

Orphanage in Citluk, Bosnia, dedicated to Pope John Paul II

There are one hundred and fifteen orphans who are cared for by nine sisters in the Order called Missionaries of the Wounded Families. The children are from 28 different communes in Citluk, Bosnia, Herzegovina. The majority are Catholic, although there are some Orthodox, and Muslim children. The youngest is 1 month old, and the oldest, 20 years old. Sr. Cornelia, who runs this orphanage, said that they received no help from the state, and was entirely dependent on the assistance of friends, like the Welsh Pilgrimage to Medjugorje.

Medjugorje and the Church

Extracts from the book "Medjugorje and the Church" by kind permission of Sister Emmanuel and Denis Nolan.

The public expects us to say something about the events in the parish of Medjugorje, where six children claim the Madonna appears to them... It is certain that the children have not been 'talked into' anything, and have not - certainly not by the Church - been encouraged to speak falsehoods. Everything indicates that the children are not lying... When the Jews tried to silence the Apostles, according to the Acts of the Apostles, a teacher of the Law, highly regarded by all the people, Gamaliel, said to the Jewish assembly: "If their purpose or activity is human in its origins, they will destroy themselves. If, on the other hand, what they say comes from God, you will not be able to destroy them. You might even be found opposing God!" (Acts 5:38-39).

This is our stand at present.

Bishop Pavao Zanic

Bishop Mostar

(Published in Glas Koncila, August 16, 1981)

Medjugorje and the Church

In response to many questions from priests and bishops about Medjugorje, we have assembled here some basic information. We hope this modest summary will dispel any confusion in people's minds as to the Church's position on Medjugorje. We have not sought to retrace the history of the apparitions, already competently related in several books. Nor have we sought to be exhaustive, but rather to awaken interest and provide some points of departure from which each person can undertake a more comprehensive study.

After having given his support to the testimony of the six visionaries at the beginning of the apparitions ("It is certain that the children have not been talked into anything... Everything indicates that the children are not lying." Glas Koncila, August 16, 1981), Bishop Zanic, the Bishop of Mostar, changed his mind and denied their authenticity.¹ Entrusted by Rome with the Commission of Inquiry as local bishop, he submitted a negative judgment to Cardinal Ratzinger in 1986. This judgment was echoed in the newspapers, and many Christians, even among the clergy, have since received no more information.

But Cardinal Ratzinger rejected these negative conclusions. And - an event without precedent in the history of apparitions - the local bishop (Msgr. Zanic) was relieved of the dossier.

¹ On March 22, 1995, Archbishop Frane Franic, Ordinary at the time of the Metropolitan. See that in 1981 included Medjugorje, informed Sr. Emmanuel and Denis Nolan that at a meeting of the BYC (Bishops' Conference of Yugoslavia) held soon after Bishop Zanic had changed his mind, he explained before the Bishops' Conference why he had done so: "Through one of the children Our Lady sent me an admonition, and the Blessed Mother would never admonish a Bishop!" The Conference granted Bishop Zanic's request, and Archbishop Franic's response, "But in the Book of the Apocalypse the Holy Spirit admonishes seven Bishops!", was not recorded in the minutes of their meeting.

Medjugorje and the Church

This fact was not widely reported. Rome dissolved Bishop Zanic's commission and then put the matter in the hands of the Yugoslavian Episcopal Conference. A new commission was consequently appointed under the presidency of Bishop Komarica (of Banja Luka, Bosnia-Herzegovina). On the 21st of November, 1990, Bishop Komarica (President of the Commission) came in person to celebrate the pilgrimage Mass and to announce that other bishops on the Commission would follow, and this happened up until the war. According to the customs of the Church, this is the equivalent of a recognition of the devotion and of the pilgrimage. In his homily he acknowledged the good fruits of prayer and conversion at Medjugorje: "The Commission recognises these fruits."

But Cardinal Ratzinger rejected these negative conclusions...

On the 11th of April, 1991, at Zadar, the Episcopal Conference responsible for the Commission accepted Medjugorje as a place of prayer. This is not yet a final "Yes" on the part of the Church but it is a big "Yes." It is in any case an explicit encouragement for the making of pilgrimages and to priests to come and administer the sacraments there.

Bishop Ratko Peric, the new Bishop of Mostar, came to Medjugorje on the 6th of June, 1993, to confirm 150 children there. In his homily, he recalled the most important points made by the Commission on the 11th of April, 1991, on the subject of Medjugorje, namely:

Medjugorje and the Church

- Medjugorje is officially accepted as a place of prayer and worship.
- A liturgical and pastoral team is responsible for ensuring the rightful status of the Virgin in the offices of the Parish.
- The Commission has declared a “non constat de supernaturalitate.”

This Latin phrase signifies that at the present stage of investigation, it is not yet possible to declare the supernatural reality of the phenomena, but that such a possibility remains open for the future. There exists another canonical phrase - “constat de non supernaturalitate” - which the Commission has not employed. It signifies that the phenomena have been declared false definitively. Few people know of these canonical subtleties, which is why the rumour has circulated - even among the clergy - that the Commission has made a negative declaration and that, therefore, pilgrimages to Medjugorje are either not advised or forbidden.

This is not the case at all. On the contrary, there is every reason to hope that the supernatural authenticity of the apparitions will be declared in the future. At the same time, we ought to be patient, because waiting for this declaration may take as much as half a century! In fact, has there been a single case where the Church has recognised apparitions while they were still occurring? How many years after the last apparition did she wait before recognizing Lourdes or Fatima?

Medjugorje and the Church

We bishops have accepted Medjugorje as a place of prayer, as a sanctuary... Cardinal Kuharic

Cardinal Siri of Genoa, gave his assessment to Bishop Hnilica in 1989: "I have noticed that the people who come from Medjugorje become apostles. They renew the parishes. They form groups in which they get together, prayer groups. They pray before the Blessed Sacrament. They hold lectures, lead discussions and bring others to Medjugorje. And these circles - these prayer groups - spread out more and more. They renew the Church!"

(Gebetsaktion #4, 1990).

"I have noticed that the people who come from Medjugorje become apostles... They renew the Church!"

"Personally, I am convinced that Medjugorje is the continuation of Lourdes and Fatima. Step by step the Immaculate Heart of Mary will triumph. And I am also deeply convinced that Medjugorje is a sign for this." Cardinal Tomasek

Testimonies from 40 bishops (10 Cardinals among them) have been collected and published in Medjugorje: A Time For Truth And A Time For Action by Denis Nolan, USA. Let us note, for example, from Cardinal Frantisek Tomasek: "Personally, I am convinced that Medjugorje is the continuation of Lourdes and Fatima. Step by step the Immaculate Heart of Mary will triumph. And I am also deeply convinced that Medjugorje is a sign for this."

(Gebetsaktion, #17, 1990)

Medjugorje and the Church

From among the greatest theologians of our century, let us note further testimony from Cardinal (designate)

Hans Urs von Baltasar:

“The theology of Medjugorje rings true. I am convinced of its truth. Everything concerning Medjugorje is authentic from the Catholic point of view. All that happens there is so evident, so convincing!” (Interview with Fr. Richard Foley, S.J., November, 1985.) Von Baltasar met with visionary Maria Pavlovic in Germany. Before being named a cardinal he stated for publication: “There is only one danger alone for Medjugorje - that people will pass it by!”

“Medjugorje is authentic from the Catholic point of view. All that happens there is so evident, so convincing!”

Hans Urs von Baltasar

And among the great figures in the Church the Holy Father has many times expressed his faith in Medjugorje. Cardinal Tomasek has made public the Holy Father’s remark in his presence, “If he were not Pope he would like to go to Medjugorje to help at the work with the pilgrims.” The Holy Father has invited numerous priests and bishops to go there. He has received several of the Medjugorje visionaries, among them Mirjana Dragicevic. Upon her first visit to Rome he spoke for 20 minutes with her in private. The visionary states that she will reveal nothing about this conversation for the time being, apart from these words of the Holy Father: “If I were not the Pope, I would be in Medjugorje already.”

“If I were not the Pope, I would be in Medjugorje already.”
Pope John Paul II

Medjugorje and the Church

Six children, from unsophisticated backgrounds - are they capable of keeping up such a pretense for over 33 years? Could the “fabrication” of a small team of priests give rise to millions of conversions across the entire world, to the transformation and illumination of millions of lives by Christ? Could it lead to the renewing of whole dioceses, the creation of thousands of small prayer groups, the reconciliation of thousands of families or the blossoming of an incalculable number of priestly or religious vocations?

Does one not know a tree by its fruits?

Our Lady Asks Us To Live Her Message - Her Words From Heaven

By Mr. Philip Illsley

Our Lady constantly, in most of her messages, asks us to PRAY-PRAY-PRAY my children. She asks us to pray with the heart, not just with words. Think about what you are saying, she says and to whom you are addressing in prayer God!

Mary tells us also that in prayer we will come to know the greatest joy and the way out of every situation, that has no way out. Mary confirms to us that with prayer and fasting we can stop wars and suspend the laws of nature. She encourages us to read the Bible daily, to form prayer groups and to make eucharistic devotions. She particularly asks us to pray the Rosary daily, all the mysteries of the Rosary daily and she urges us to go to monthly confession.

The messages she brings us at Medjugorje does not convey any new teaching, but echoes the teachings of the gospel and the church. She tells us, that without us God's plan for the salvation of mankind cannot be realised. Therefore she urges us day-by-day to grow closer to God through prayer. Prayer, my friends is the key, if we do not have a prayerful life, if we do not spend time in prayer daily, we are not able to comprehend the messages and what is God's plan for us. Mary tells us that she is with us here in Medjugorje in order that we may be able to bring about Gods plan in all its fullness.

Our Lady is telling us that she appears at Medjugorje to fulfil God's plan to save mankind, through each one of us, but we cannot comprehend the magnitude of it all, nor our role in his plan without prayer.

Our Lady Asks Us To Live Her Message - Her Words From Heaven

Sinful human nature she says blocks our intelligence, so we are not able to understand the greatest of our role, in God's plan to save mankind. Only through prayer can this veil be removed, so we can see the reality and the truth of Our Lady's words from Heaven.

Our Lady started giving monthly messages for the world at Medjugorje in January 1997, this first message was a very important one, and this message should be central in our understanding of Medjugorje. This first message expresses the reason for the apparitions at Medjugorje. Here is this essential and crucial message in all its entirety.

Dear children behold, also today I want to call you to start living a new life, as of today.

Dear children I want you to comprehend, that God, has chosen each one of you in order to use you in a great plan, for the salvation of mankind. You are not able to comprehend how great your role is in God's design. Therefore dear children, pray, so that in prayer you may be able to comprehend what is God's plan through you. I am with you in order that you may be able to bring it about in all its fullness. Thank you for having responded to my call. On August 2nd 1981, Mary gave this message to the visionaries at Medjugorje - A great struggle is about to unfold, a struggle between my son and satan. Human souls are at stake, without your prayers I cannot help you to understand the messages that my Lord has permitted me to give you.
